

Information Sheet about Secrecy and Confidentiality

Dear Exam Participants

All examinations conducted by the Fraunhofer Personnel Certification Authority at the Fraunhofer Institute FIT are subject to special confidentiality. If you take part in a certification examination, you are also bound to confidentiality and secrecy. We would like to inform you about this in the following.

All personal, technical, or business information received during the examination, as well as all documents provided during the examination by the Fraunhofer Personnel Certification Authority at the Fraunhofer Institute FIT, are to be kept confidential. In addition, participants are obliged to take all necessary measures - including technical measures - to prevent unauthorized access by third parties.

The obligation of confidentiality and non-use of confidential information does not apply to the extent that it was demonstrably known before taking part in the examination, was disclosed to the public before the examination, was publicly available, was disclosed to the public after the examination without your involvement or fault, or was disclosed to the public after the examination, or is substantially equivalent to information disclosed to you by an authorized third party.

Please note that breaches of this confidentiality will give rise to criminal and/or civil claims.

If you have any queries/concerns regarding this information sheet about secrecy and confidentiality in the context of examinations conducted by the Fraunhofer Personnel Certification Authority, please contact:
